Conference on Legal Remedies for High-Level Corruption

Event Date: Saturday, June 28
Event Time: 09.00-17:00 London
Location: Saïd Business School, Oxford University

Corruption is flourishing in the global economy – how do its opponents best use national and international law to combat this trans-national scourge?

The Open Society Justice Initiative and Oxford University's Institute for Ethics, Law and Armed Conflict are hosting a day of discussions on the worldwide legal fight against high-level corruption.

The all-day event will be attended by leading legal experts and practitioners from around the world, who will review successes and failures so far, and seek to identify priorities for the future in three panel-led sessions:

Where we stand now: A review of the state of the field, focused around representative case studies of significant cases and current litigation efforts.

Emerging Approaches: How anticorruption groups around the world are expanding the legal tools available, through the innovative use of existing laws. Panel participants will discuss public interest litigation in the Indian Supreme Court, the U.S. False Claims Act in Kenya, efforts to use Africa's human-rights mechanism, and the use of humanitarian law of pillage.

Pushing the Frontiers: Looking forwards, participants will discuss legal theories and concepts that may shape the future course of anticorruption efforts around the world.

Panel participants include: Paul Collier, University of Oxford (UK); Mutembo Nchito, Director of Public Prosecution, Republic of Zambia; Adetokunbo Mumuni, Socio-Economic Rights & Accountability Project (Nigeria); Yevgeniy A. Zhovtis, BOTA Foundation (Kazakhstan); Arghya Sengupta, Vidhi Centre for Legal Policy (India); Abiola Makinwa, The Hague University of Applied Sciences (Netherlands); Paul Wamuti Ndegwa, Ndegwa, Muthama & Katsiya Associates (Kenya); Maud Perdriel-Vaissière, anticorruption consultant (France); Samuel Nguiffo, Center for Environment and Development (Cameroon); Bénédict De Moerloose, TRIAL (Switzerland); Elizabeth David-Barrett and Vuyelwa Kuuya, University of Oxford (UK).
